The Ops Room Clock
R.C. Stewart
21/05/2025

There's an old mac in the Ops Room used to display a clock.

It is just a bash script with an infinite loop running in a terminal window, with the font sent to 96 pts.

If the clock stops working, just press the up arrow then press <return>.

The shell script is tclock.sh.